

REFUGEE SUPPORT

At the Centre for Newcomers, we are dedicated to supporting anyone seeking refuge in Canada, regardless of immigration status. Whether you are a refugee claimant, have a humanitarian claim, are without status, or need assistance settling in Canada, we can help you navigate the right processes to access the support you need.

Our Refugee Services Include:

- Settlement Support & Case Management – Personalized assistance to help you access essential services and understand your options.
- Legal & Immigration Referrals – Guidance and referrals on refugee claims, humanitarian applications, and pathways to status.
- Health & Mental Wellness Support – Access to culturally competent healthcare, mental health counseling, and crisis intervention.
- Housing & Financial Resources – Connections to emergency housing, shelters, and financial resources.
- Employment & Career Support – Help with job searches, resume writing, and employment programs.
- Community & Social Integration—Referrals to language programs, volunteer opportunities, peer support groups, and other social groups.

LGBTQ+ Refugee Support

In addition to the above, in partnership with other organizations, these services focus on the specific needs of LGBTQAI+ refugees, including claimants, asylum seekers, temporary residents, and undocumented individuals. Services encompass sexual orientation and gender identity or expression (SOGIE), risk and needs assessments, support with Immigration and Refugee Board claims, legal referrals, comprehensive settlement assistance, and connection to LGBTQAI+ social networks like True Colours, and more.
